PUNISHMENT IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Punishment in the Public Schools.—On Saturday morning Miss S. Brown, teacher of Secondary School No. 4, First district, appeared before Justice Thompson to answer the charge of crucity beating Walter S. Bastopol, a pupil in said school. The lady was secompanied by Messer. J. O. Wilson and J. S. Brown, two of the trustees for the First district. From the boy's own statement is appeare he was punished for talking, singing, and jumping out of his place during school hours. The scholer scattling is a proper to the place of the scholer cautioned him not to behave so, and said that he was in the habit of behaving in such a manner. On Wednesday, the 19th ultimo, the teacher whipped him severely with a light riding whip, inflicting several bruless, and while she was punishing him he was thrown upon the floor. Dr. Newman was called to see the boy several days after, and saw several bruises upon his body, but though the marks indicated severe punishment he would not testify that he thought it cruel.

The trustness stated that this school has been the cause of much trouble to them. The disorderly conduct of the boys was such that under another teacher last year the loss of time was considerable, and the teacher family gave the school up. With a view to the restoration of order and discipline in the school, Miss Brown was transferred to it, and instructed to use corporal punishment when necessary, and she was provided with the whip used, and was instructed to report for dismissal such scholars in this case was reported and dismissed.

Justice Thempson decided that the widence before him was not sufficient to require the lady to give half for court. He remarked that his own experience as a teacher taught him the necessity of discipline is chools, and the necessity for corporeal punishment to secure it. The boy had been exceed the schools and the necessity for corporeal punishment to secure it. The boy had been exceed the schools and the necessity for corporeal punishment to secure it. Circuit Courte.

Circuit Court — The adjourned (May) term of the Circuit Court will be convened at the City Hall this morning, and a number of cases awaiting action be disposed of.

The case of John O. Harris against the Baltimors and Ohle Rallroad Company, action to recover damages, will come up on a motion that the variet he set saids and a new trial granted. It will be remembered this case was tried a few months since, and Harris obtained a varietie for 20,000 for in uries received by him while traveling over the Baltimore and Chic raltroad in West Virginia.

The defendants file the following reasons:

1st. The vertice in the case is pajaphly unreasonable.

2d. Because the damages awarded by the jury are unantiestly in the nature of smart money, and that such damages, in this cause, were contrary to the instructions of the court, and contrary to the ovidence in the cause.
